This publication is a collection of novelties developed by Nowa Szkoła for 2022 season. We created over 1000 new educational aids, most of them are designed and manufactured by us. The presented offer of items for children includes new versions and colours of our best-selling furniture lines and cloakroom collections, which are in collections with current trends for children. Our teaching materials and soft play are functional, therapeutic and high-quality.

When creating furniture, soft play and pedagogical materials we always put children first. The use of classic white, grey and pastel colours promotes cognitive activity in children and makes the space more peaceful. Light, natural colours are a safe choice for interior design in various styles. All educational aids, worksheets and lesson scenarios are consulted with methodologists. It makes them well thought out, and as a result, indispensable for teachers in their work.

FANTASY

FORREST

ON THE SOCLE

Children love animals and they like to watch and play with them. To meet their needs, we present a new, fairy-tale collection of furniture-the Fantasy line. The whole line consists of the same furniture modules differing only by decorations and prints on the fronts. The Forest line has been additionally enriched with the teacher's desk. The furniture is perfect for furnishing nurseries and kindergarten rooms; they create a functional space and help to organise the children's activities. The wide selection of modules allows you to freely arrange the interiors to make them suitable for the little ones. Their universal colour palette acts as a background for different elements and decorations. All furniture pieces can be purchased in a set or separately.

CUSHION PEAR

Successful rehabilitation requires good quality functional equipment. Foam shapes are standard tools necessary for the implementation of therapy. We offer them in many different shapes and sizes. Their inside is made of polyurethane foam, covered with an aesthetic phthalate-free PVC fabric in various colours. Thanks to foam shapes, the users can effectively train the upper and lower parts of their bodies. Pear-shaped cushions are great for sitting and exercising. They adapt perfectly to the position of the body, and they can be formed according to the needs of the user. Additionally, they can prove useful during rehabilitation and other therapeutic activities. However, they are also perfect as a comfortable seat. Some models are equipped with a handle which makes moving them from one place to another much easier. Their quality design, high quality granules and durable PVC or Oxford fabric guarantee long service life. Styrofoam granules, which can be found inside pear-shaped cushions and other rehabilitation cushions, wear out naturally after about a year of intensive use. We recommend refilling the cushions with new granules which you can find under the code: NS1585.
